About Chuck Inman

Chuck Inman has spent over 25 years in a career that has covered sales, marketing, training and coaching. He has worked globally in the Pharmaceutical and Surgical businesses with various brands. In his sales and marketing leadership roles he successfully launched key products and campaigns that led to hundred million dollar brand portfolios.

During his career Chuck earned numerous sales and marketing awards and even holds three patents on surgical products and packaging. But his passion is educating, motivating and connecting with audiences. He brings energy, passion and real life leadership and sales experiences to his presentations. These experiences enable his audiences to connect and apply the material to everyday events whether the focus is on their professional or personal life.

He is accredited and certified in teaching Emotional Intelligence for Personal Leadership. He has taught these programs to people from over 40 countries around the world while traveling throughout Asia, Latin America, North America and Europe. Chuck is also certified in the Leadership and Development 360 coaching program.

Chuck is a graduate from Northern Arizona University where he received degrees in Biology and Marketing. He enjoys hiking, biking and fly-fishing. As a father of two daughters he finds that the lessons from emotional intelligence can be applied on a constant basis in the family environment.

“My work is to empower people to create strong human connections and to analyze and adjust their behavior so it aligns their intent with their impact.”
